Job Opportunity

HVAC Sales Representative

Plumbing, Heating & Air Conditioning Company - Princeton, New Jersey

Redding's is seeking a full-time, professional HVAC sales representative to sell HVAC equipment, generators and accessory products throughout greater Mercer County, NJ. This person will perform in-home sales calls, cultivate new customer relationships and manage existing customers. They'll communicate services to be provided directly to the customer; ensure work has been performed to the customer's expectations and perform follow up with the customer, as needed. Teamwork is a must and work hours may include evenings and weekends as necessary to fit customer needs.

Don't miss this great opportunity! With a track record of long-term employee retention, excellent benefits, commission and a company vehicle, Redding's offers the right candidate a great chance to have a successful sales career. We are seeking a hard-working, well-organized, self-starter with excellent communications skills, both verbal and written. Must be computer literate and have at least five years sales experience. Prior experience with a construction or HVAC service company is strongly preferred.

Compensation & Benefits

Our benefits package is excellent and salary is commensurate to experience. The candidate must pass a drug test, criminal/work history background and driving record check. Please e-mail your resume to jobs@reddings.com.
